FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

TCM Celebrates 20th Anniversary as Software Developer for Credit and Collections

Pioneer in Collection Agency Software Products Remains Technology Leader in Industry

Poulsbo, WA, January 20, 2006 – The Computer Manager, Inc. (TCM) a pioneer in the development of collection agency software, is celebrating their 20th year. Founded in 1987 by principals Tony La Magna and Gary Grout, the company has developed and provides the industry their premier core product, Debt$Net™, as well as supporting software modules, training, custom programming, and technical support. During the coming year, the company plans various activities to mark this important anniversary.

In an era when many companies were founded and then quickly disappeared, it is a remarkable accomplishment for a firm to maintain continuous growth and maintain market leadership for over 20 years. Tony LaMagna, Vice President and key to the development of the product line, said, “What we have here is a comfortably profitable business, and a reputation I am proud of. It did not happen overnight. We have come to the office every day over the last twenty years and did the job. We worked on advancing the software, we worked on providing solutions to clients, and we worked continuously on learning and growing in the industry.”

The company has come a long way since the early days. Originally operating out of a small office in the North Kitsap, the company has progressively expanded their operation. Recently, they moved into a new facility in Poulsbo. This facility will allow for expansion of their operations, including increasing their on-site training capabilities, expanding the product line, and preparations for release of the next generation, Debt$Net™ Release 7.0 for SQL Server.
